“I am a real estate and corporate attorney who strives to find efficient and cost-effective solutions for my clients.”

With a combined fifteen years of experience in the real estate industry as a managing real estate broker and attorney, Chris provides real world, practical solutions to his clients on a variety of real estate matters, including sales and acquisitions, leasing, eviction, landlord/tenant dispute resolution, and condominium formations and deconversions. Chris also acts a real estate co-counsel on litigation matters, including evictions, partitions, actions to quiet title, and breach of contract.

In addition to his broad real estate experience, Chris also acts as outside general counsel to businesses ranging from startups to publicly traded companies. He prides himself on being a "legal concierge" for his clients—handling matters personally and connecting clients with the perfect partner for any legal matter that may arise. Chris personally ensures that all of his clients' legal needs are met.
