“Developing innovative strategies to protect my clients’ interests while working as a team to grow their business is a passion of mine.”

Joe provides his clients a strategic advantage by working through an intellectual property lens, counseling clients on patent clearance, preparation, and prosecution strategies. He also has experience performing due diligence and assisting with mergers and acquisitions. Joe additionally supports his colleagues in intellectual property disputes relating to patents, trademarks, and trade secrets.

Joe has written and prosecuted a litany of technology areas from pharmaceuticals to antennas, but primarily focuses on: electromechanical, material science, and robotic systems in the defense, surgical, and automotive spaces. Joe works with a range of clients including solo inventors, start-ups, and multi-national Fortune 500 companies, as well as companies working with government grants, such as the SBIR program.

In addition to his intellectual property experience, Joe acts as outside general counsel to businesses, serving as a "legal concierge" for his clients—handling matters personally and connecting clients with the right colleague for any legal matter that may arise. Joe takes a very involved, hands-on role, ensuring that the needs of the client are met.
