As an experienced litigation attorney, Todd has worked with a wide array of clients in various industries for many years. With a reputation for excellence both in and out of the courtroom, he has successfully litigated cases across a range of industries, including media and first amendment matters, intellectual property, construction, sports and entertainment, and corporate divorces.

Todd has a deep knowledge of the law, and a proven track record of success in a variety of areas. Specifically, Todd has significant experience in sports litigation, in particular boxing, having represented Golden Boy Promotions, Don King, Oscar De La Hoya, and boxer Beibut Shumenov.

Outside of his practice, Todd spends his time as a volunteer assistant coach for the UNLV Rowing Team. His passion for the sport began in college and has continued throughout his life, proving to be beneficial in his career as it mirrors his drive to earn the win for his clients.
